Matters were, accordingly, put in statu quo, and Tom abandoned all chance tarily returned to the condition of a slave, being unwilling to fish, on his own hook, in the troubled and perilous waters of freedom.

Mr. Simonton, the correspondent of the New York Times, has positively refused to testify before the corruption committee of Congress, and declares his determination to submit to any punishment that may be inflicted by the House, before he will betray the confidence of confidential communications. Mr. Chester has taken the same position; and so the power of the House is set at naught.
